

7.1.1 - Measures initiated by the Institution for the promotion of gender equity during the year

1. Safety and security for women:

Ensuring the safety and security of college girl students is paramount, and several measures contribute to this. CCTV surveillance strategically placed across campus acts as a vigilant eye, monitoring key areas to deter untoward incidents and provide evidence in case of emergencies. This surveillance isn't invasive but serves as a protective layer, especially in secluded spots and pathways.

Having a dedicated security guard stationed at the college gate enhances security by controlling access, verifying entrants, and maintaining a visible presence that acts as a deterrent to potential threats. This individual is a reassuring figure, ensuring that only authorized individuals enter the premises.

The girls' common room serves as a safe haven, fostering a sense of community and comfort among female students. Equipped with security measures like restricted access, and regular check-ins by staff, it becomes a secure space where students can relax, study, and interact without fear.

These combined measures create a comprehensive safety net, reassuring both students and their families that the college is committed to providing a secure environment conducive to learning and personal growth.
